Objectives: To provide valuable insights to management students about the evolving landscape of career opportunities in the dynamic business world

Activities Undertaken: On the 27th of March 2023, the MBA department of the Dr. Akhilesh Das Gupta Institute of Technology and Management orchestrated a seminar on "Prospects & Career Opportunities" with the primary objective of furnishing management students with insightful perspectives into the dynamic landscape of career possibilities within the ever-evolving business world. The event was meticulously executed to deliver both technical knowledge and practical guidance to the aspiring young professionals in attendance.

The inaugural session commenced with the gracious welcome of the esteemed resource person, Prof. (Dr.) Subhash Kakkar, Director of FOSTIIMA Business School, New Delhi, by the event's organizer. Prof. Kakkar, in his session, eloquently expounded on the paramount importance of setting clear goals and delineated effective strategies for goal determination. Additionally, he emphasized the requisite knowledge of industrial trends and the imperative nature of skill development in the contemporary professional realm.

A pivotal focus of the seminar was directed towards the burgeoning significance of data science and analytics in contemporary decision-making processes. The featured speaker underscored the escalating demand for professionals proficient in data analysis, machine learning, and statistical modeling, elucidating the pivotal role these competencies play in driving organizational success.

Subsequent to the informative sessions, an interactive dialogue ensued wherein students engaged in insightful discussions with the distinguished expert. The concluding remarks and expression of gratitude were delivered by the Event Incharge of the Management department. According to the feedback received from the participants, the seminar was deemed a highly enriching and valuable learning experience.
