Event Overview:

The Department of Electronics and Communication Engineering, Dr. Akhilesh Das Gupta Institute of Professional Studies (ADGIPS), organized an Alumni Talk on career development and personal growth as part of its continuous efforts to connect present students with successful alumni. The talk featured Mr. Vaibhav Khanna, a distinguished alumnus of the department, who has made remarkable contribution as a Hardware Engineer.

Mr. Vaibhav Khanna is currently working as a Hardware Engineer in Zaptics Research. Apart from his professional excellence, he is also a professional model, demonstrating how one can effectively balance multiple passions and career paths.

Objective:

The primary objective of organizing the Alumni Talk was to:

- Strengthen the bond between alumni and the institution, creating a sense of belonging and pride among former and current students.
- Guide students on career planning, communication skills, professional ethics, and balancing multiple roles in life.
- Encourage networking between students and alumni to build a supportive professional community.

Outcome:

The Alumni Talk proved to be a resounding success. It achieved its intended goals of bridging the gap between alumni and students, fostering mentorship, and broadening students' perspectives. Participants gained practical insights into:

Students expressed a strong desire for more such alumni interactions, as they found the real-life experiences more relatable than conventional classroom learning. The session served as a motivation for many to plan their career goals more strategically.

Acknowledgment:

Special thanks to Dr. Surender Dhiman (Head of Department, ECE) for his continuous motivation, direction, which greatly encouraged both students and faculty members.

The department also appreciates the efforts of all ECE faculty members, staff, and student coordinators whose teamwork and enthusiasm played a vital role in making the event a grand success.

Conclusion:

The Alumni Talk by Mr. Vaibhav Khanna was an inspiring and enriching event that successfully connected the past with the present of the Department of ECE. His practical insights, motivational guidance, and approachable attitude left a lasting impact on all attendees.

The Department of ECE extends heartfelt gratitude to Mr. Vaibhav Khanna for taking time from his busy schedule to interact with his juniors and for being a role model to the students. The department also appreciates the efforts of the organizing committee, faculty members, and volunteers who made this event possible.
